FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The following details will best show the progress and position of the FIRE DEPARTMENT of the ROYAL INSURANCE COMPANY.

The Receipt of FIRE PREMIUMS has been as follows,

1851......£52,673 | 1855.....£130,060 1853...... 112,564 | 1857..... 175,049 1859 £228,314 1861 292,402

Placing the Company among the very largest Offices in the Kingdom. The Fire Revenue has been enhanced, in three years, by the enormous sum of more than £95,000.

Moreover the latest Parliamentary Return of Insurance Tax paid to the Inland Revenue Office (ordered to be printed by the House of commons, 8th July, 1862) enhibits the ROYAL INSURANCE COMPANY, as respects increase of business, at the HEAD OF ALL the surance Offices.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

The Rapid Progress and position of this Branch will be best shown by the following Statement of the New Life Business effected

New Premiums. 1851 .. £3,378 18 5 1855.. £5,909 18 6 1853.. 5,099 19 10 | 1857.. 10,270 8 6 | 1861.. 16,627 18 0

The BOYAL INSURANCE COMPANY has published a full account of the inscettigation into the Assets and Liabilities of its Life Department, in as plain and intelligible a manner as the abstruseness of the subject admitted, together with the entire statements and valuations necessary for that purpose.—This Statement can be obtained on application.

From the extensive Notices of this Pamphlet and its accompanying Diagrams, which have appeared in the leading Periodicals of the day, it has largely attracted the statemtion of the Public in all parts of the United Kingdom, as well as abroad. A most satisfactory and conclusive evidence that such is the case, is afforded by the fact, that the sum assured by New Policies in the year 1861 amounts to the enormous awance.

Moreover the mortality experienced hitherto is so much less than the "Expectation of Life" would indicate, that, after debiting every Claim, and paying every expense incurred on the Life Hanch during the year, it is found that the balance shows an increase to the period.

The Foreign organizations of the Royal Insurance Company enable the Directors to give peculiar facilities for Travel and Foreign Residence on the part of its Policy Holders.

LARGE BONUSES DECLARED 1855 AND 1860-£2 PER CENT. PER ANNUM. The greatest Bonus ever continuously declared by any Company. SPECIAL ADVANTAGES,-DIVISION OF PROFITS every Five Years to Policies then in existence two entire years,

 Expenses chiefly borne by the Fire Branch, in order to increase the Bonus to be returned. SECURITY FOR BOTH FIRE AND LIFE BRANCHES-CAPITAL, TWO MILLIONS STERLING.

BREECH-LOADING GUNS AND RIFLES

HAVE OBTAINED

A First Class Medal at the International Exhibition, 1862.

These Arms are now adopted by many of the leading Sportsmen of the day, and after three years' service in the field, are pronounced by all, to be the most simple, secure, and efficient, as well as the best mechanically arranged arms yet introduced.

best mechanically arranged arms yet introduced.

In these Arms, the objections urged against breech-loaders generally, are entirely obviated. Instead of the hinge-joint having to sustain the shock of the discharge, it is released from this duty altogether, by the presence of a solid lump, which fits into a slot in the body, and receives the force of the concussion, and holds the barrels firm to the breech, while a double claw passing over an arc'd T-piece, holds the barrels firm to the body, and securely locks them till released for re-loading. By these two simple arrangements there is no possibility of the parting of the barrels from the breech, or body, or of the action becoming in any way deranged. This is made evident by the experience of three years, during which time these Arms have been in use, and have never betrayed the slightest tendency to part at any of the joints, and are as sound in every respect as when they left the Factory.

These Arms possess other peculiarities and advantages. They have a front-action lever, which, when fastened, prevents the annoyance caused by opening when carried over the shoulder, which is frequently the case in those made on the old principle. They have bar locks instead of back action. The immense lump of metal near the breech end, in the old principle, is entirely dismissed in this, and they present an appearance as nearly approaching the muzzle-loader as possible. They are also capable of being converted into muzzle-loaders at pleasure.

Extract from the Report of the Jury of Class XXX. (5751.) JACKSON & GRAHAM, Oxford Street.

"We have already stated that the Furniture exhibited by Messrs. Jackson & Graham was, in a most special manner, distinguished by the International Jury. The great Sideboard in British Oak, decorated with figures, subjects, and attributes, is executed with rare perfection: and although there may be a little excess of richness in the composition, the workmanship is all that could be desired. The same remark applies to the great Wardrobe, inlaid with colored wood, which is placed in the Nave at the back of the Sideboard; the columns and pilasters which separate the three divisions of this piece of Furniture are in good taste and of most careful execution."

of this piece of Furniture are in good taste and of most careful execution."

In the English Furniture Court they have exhibited several pieces of Furniture; one especially received admiration for the elegance and simplicity of its form, as well as for its perfect execution. It is a small Etagère in Ebony, inlaid with ivory, in quiet and perfect taste, and may serve as a model in the midst of that exuberance of richness without reason, which Furniture Manufacturers so constantly produce. Another Cabinet in Ebony, enriched with git bronzes, accompanies the Etagère; the mountings are very well executed, but perhaps too rich for the Cabinet. A Drawing Room. Decoration, with a Chimney Piece finished with French bronzes, complete the important exhibition, TRULY WORTHY OF A HOUSE WHICH IN 1851 AND 1855 TOOK THE FIRST RANK IN PRODUCTION OF FURNITURE AND CONTINUES ITS EFFORTS IN THE DIRECTION OF ART AND GOOD TASTE."

PATENT WHITE ZINC PAINT.

By their process, which is patented, the Pure White Zinc Paint is cheaper than White Lead. It is the most durable and beautiful paint known, and does not stain or discolour with the London atmosphere, or in the neighbourhood of Gas and Chemical Works. It has also proved superior to every other Paint in all climates, for the inside and outside of Ships, Lighthouses, Sluice-gates, Iron-roofing, and Bridges.

It is especially adapted for painting Iron, as, by virtue of a semi-galvanic action, it enters the pores and forms an amalgam of the two metals, which protects the Iron from decay or incrustation. It should be used instead of Red Lead, which is proved to be destructive to Iron exposed to Salt Water.

CHEAPNESS.

Not only is it cheaper per hundredweight, but two hundredweight of this Paint with aix gallons of Oil, covers as much surface as three hundredweight of White Lead and twelve gallons of Oil.

ADULTERATIONS.

Some Paint Grinders have been selling Zinc Paint adulterated with Sulphate of Barytes, in proportions varying from ten to thirty per cent. No Workman can produce good work with such material. Those who have obtained the Patent White Zinc Paint from grinders who have not adulterated it will never willingly use any other Paint for their best work.

To prevent the prejudice which the inferior article must produce, each Cask of pure White Zinc Paint is Stamped.

HUBBUCK, LONDON PATENT.

Inferior Zinc Paint, so marked, having been sold in Foreign Markets, the Patentees offer a reward of Fifty Pounds for information which shall lead to the conviction in an English or Colonial Court of those who have pirated their mark. It is to be observed that dealers are also liable to prosecution.

24, LIME STREET, FENCHURCH STREET, LONDON.

"For Public Schools, and all rooms occupied by children, there will now be no excuse for using poisonous paints. Parents have remarked that their children, on returning from the country to newly-painted houses, have suffered in health. The reason is evident: the breath extracts the poison from White Lead even after the paint is dry, and the lungs draw in the deadly vapour.

"Among other tests to which it has been subjected, has been that of painting the hold of a sugar vessel, which, after a voyage to St. Kitt's and back, is found, after washing, to be as white as the first day that paint was supplied."—John Bull, Sept 14th, 1850.

HISTORY

OFFICES OF THE SECRETARIES OF STATE.

1253 TO 1863.

THE earliest mention of a Secretary to The Sovereign occurs in the 37th year of the reign of Henry III, 1253.

There was only one Principal Secretary of State until the 30th year of the reign of Henry VIII, 1539, when the number was increased to two, both being of equal rank and authority.

Upon the union with Scotland, in the 6th year of the reign of Queen Anne, 1708, a third Principal Secretary of State was added, viz., for Scotch Affairs, but this appointment ceased in January, 1746.

In the 8th year of the reign of George III, 1768, January 20, a Principal Secretary of State for the American or Colonial Department was added, but this appointment was abolished in 1782.

At the time when only two Principal Secretaries of State existed, the duties were divided between the North and South Departments—the Northern Department, or Province, included the Low Countries, Germany, Denmark, Sweden, Poland, Russia, &c.; and the Southern Department, or Province, France, Switzerland, Italy, Spain, Portugal, and Turkey, &c.

In the 17th year of the reign of George III, 1782, March 27, the terms "Northern" and "Southern" were discontinued; when the duties were divided between the "Home" and "Foreign" Departments—the affairs of Ireland and the Colonies devolving upon the elder of the two Secretaries.

In the 29th year of the reign of George III, 1794, July 17, a Principal Secretary of State for War was appointed; and the business of the Colonies, which had hitherto been carried on at the Home Department, was transferred to that Secretary, March 17, 1801.

In the 17th year of the reign of Victoria, 1854, June 12, a Fourth Principal Secretary of State was appointed, when the business of the War Department was separated from the Colonial Department.

In the 22nd year of the reign of Victoria, 1858, September 2, on the abolition of the East India Company's Charter, a Fifth Principal Secretary of State was appointed for the Affairs of India.

There are now Five Secretaries of State, viz., for the Home, Foreign, Colonial, War, and India Departments.

LONDON GAZETTE OFFICE (St. MARTIN'S LANE).

The London Gazette is the only official organ of the Government for notices of promotions, appointments, &c.

The Gazette is published every Tuesday and Friday, and was first established at Oxford, in 1665, when the Court removed to that city, during the Great Plague of London. It was then called the Oxford Gazette, but on the return of the Court to London it was called the London Gazette. The first number of the London Gazette was No. 24 of the Oxford Gazette.—(See Cunningham's Handbook for London, p. 498.)

Gawler. Sounded and surveyed Lake Alexandria, and finally succeeded in taking a vessel (a cutter of six feet draught) in by the sea mouth of Lower Murray, to, what was named by the Governor, Port Pullen, thus opening a water communication with the sea and interior by the River Murray. About the middle of 1841 left Adelaide, and arrived in England in April, 1842, touching at Moulemain and Cape on way home. In June, 1842, re-entered the service as Midshipman, and was appointed to the Columbia, about to proceed to the Bay of Fundy, to survey it under the direction of the late Admiral Owen, and was named as one of his assistants. Entered the Mackenzie on August 23, and commenced the ascent of the river on August 29, arriving at Fort Simpson, one of the Hudson Bay Company's posts, October 3, where he wintered with a portion of his boats' crews, fourteen in number; the rest distributed over the country—some at Fort Macpherson, on the Peel, others on the Great Slave Lake (the extremes not less than 1,000 miles apart)-for subsistence on the ice, breaking up, and cleaning out of the rivers. In June, 1850, with his re-united party, he left Fort Simpson, with the tur traders brigade of boats, for York Factory. When on the Great Slave Lake, he met a despatch from England, ordering him to the coast again in search of Eranklin's expedition, but to proceed easterly from the mouth of the Mackenzie as far as Cape Bathurst, and then strike off to the northward. This same despatch brought him a commission as Commander, bearing date January, 1850. This second expedition failed, like others, in as far as nothing was successful in the 18, 1863.

main point; and after enduring many hardships, reached Fort Simpson again on October 5, 1850, the ice making fast, and often seriously impeding their progress to their winter quarters. In June, 1851, he again left Fort Simpson for York Factory, Hudson Bay, passing through the interior of North America, by its rivers and portages, and finally, on August 28, reached York Factory; here embarking, on September 9, in the Hudson Bay Company's ship, and arrived in England in October, 1851. In February, 1853, he was appointed to command the North Star, one of the squadron under Sir E. Belcher, and the only one that returned to England out of the squadron of five, except the Resolute, one of the abandoned ships; but she was picked up only a year after, and brought to England in 1856. The North Star was paid off in October, 1854, and just one month after he was appointed to the command of the Perseverance. Her beginning was disastrous, falling over in the Dock at Woolwich, when he, and what men he had entered, were turned over to the Falcon, sloop of war, of 17 guns. June, 1855, he left Spithead to join Admiral Baynes' squadron, and served in the Baltic, in 1865 and 1856. The latter period, with the advance squadron, under Captain R. B. Watson. REGULATIONS CONCERNING THE PRECEDENCE OF DIPLOMATIC AGENTS.

Act 17, annexed to the TREATY OF VIENNA, of June 9, 1815.

In order to prevent the inconveniences which have frequently occurred, and which might again arise, from claims of precedence among different Diplomatic Agents, the Plenipotentiaries of the Powers who signed the Treaty of Paris have agreed on the following Articles, and they think it their duty to invite the Plenipotentiaries of other Crowned Heads to adopt the same regulation:—

ARTICLE I.—Diplomatic Agents are divided into three classes:—That of Ambassadors, Legates, or Nuncios; that of Envoys, Ministers, or other persons accredited to Sovereigns: that of Chargés d'Affaires accredited to Ministers for Foreign Affairs.

- II. Ambassadors, Legates, or Nuncios, only, have the representative character.
- III. Diplomatic Agents on an extraordinary mission have not, on that account, any superiority of rank.
- IV. Diplomatic Agents shall take precedence in their respective classes, according to the date of the official notification of their arrival. The present Regulation shall not cause any innovation with regard to the Representatives of the Pope.

V. A uniform mode shall be determined in each State for the reception of Diplomatic Agents of each class.

VI. Relations of consanguinity, or of family alliance between Courts, confer no precedence on their Diplomatic Agents. The same rule also applies to political alliances.

VII. In Acts or Treaties between several Powers which grant alternate precedence, the order which is to be observed in the signatures shall be decided by lot between the Ministers.

The present Regulation is inserted in the Protocol of the Plenipotentiaries of the Eight Powers who signed the Treaty of Paris at their sitting of the 19th March, 1815.

Signed in the alphabetical order of the Courts by the Principal Plenipotentiaries of Austria, (Espagne) Spain, France, Great Britain, Portugal, Prussia, Russia, Sweden.

Conferences of the Five Powers at Aix-la-Chapelle. (Ministers Resident.)

PROTOCOL No. 45.

November 21, 1818.

In order to avoid inconvenient discussions which ingit in future arise upon a point of Diplomatic Etiquette, which appears not to have been anticipated in the Annex to the Treaty of Vienna, whereby questions of precedence were regulated, it is agreed between the Five Courts, that Ministers Resident accredited to them shall form, with respect to their precedence, an intermediate class between Ministers of the Second Class and Chargés d'Affaires.

REGULATIONS FOR HER MAJESTY'S DIPLOMATIC SERVICE.

[Extract from the London Gazette of September 16, 1862.]

1. Nomination, Qualification, and Examination of Candi- | 1860 inclusive, and of the most important international dates for Unpaid Attachéships.

CANDIDATES for the situation of Attaché in Her Majesty's Diplomatic Service will continue to be nominated by Her Majesty's Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs; and they must be prepared to undergo an examination before the Civil Service Commissioners within six months after their nomination if they elect to undergo only one examination (which single examination will, in that case, exempt them from any further examination previously to their receiving Commissions as Secretaries), or within three months if they prefer to undergo two examinations as heretofore. In the latter case the second examination may be deferred until the candidate is prepared to undergo it.

Candidates on presenting themselves for examination on their nomination must have completed the twentyfirst year of their age, and not have exceeded the twenty-sixth. In the case of candidates electing to undergo only one examination, such examination will comprise the following matters :-

a. Orthography and handwriting.

b. General intelligence, as evinced by the manner in which the candidate acquits himself, and specifically by the quickness he may show in seizing the points in papers read to him, or read over by him, once or twice.

c. Précis.

d. The candidate must satisfy the Examiners that he is thoroughly well grounded in the Latin grammar, and that he is able to construe and parse a portion of some good classical Latin author, and to give the derivations of words.

e. An accurate knowledge of French grammar, fluency in French conversation, correctness of translation from French into English, and from English into French, and

f. An accurate knowledge of German grammar, a tolerable degree of fluency in German conversation, and correctness of translation from German into English, and from English into German.*

g. A fair knowledge of the political history of Europe, and of North and South America, from the year 1660 to transactions during that period.

h. A general knowledge of geography.

The first four rules of arithmetic and decimal fractions as given with examples in Colenso's Arithmetic.

j. The first book of Euclid.

k. A general knowledge of maritime and international law, to be acquired from Wheaton's "Elements of International Law," and the first volume of Kent's "Com-mentary."

1. Candidates will be allowed, at their option, to be examined in Spanish and Italian in addition to the above subjects.

In the case of candidates electing to undergo two examinations, the first examination will comprise the following subjects:—

1. Orthography.

- 2. Handwriting.
- 3. Précis.
- 4. Latin.
- Arithmetic.
 Geography.
- 7. General intelligence, except as regards specific tests.
 8. An accurate knowledge of French grammar, correctness of translation from French into English, and such a facility of speaking French as may show aptitude for acquiring fluency after a residence abroad.

9. An accurate knowledge of German grammar.

10. A general knowledge of the political history of Europe, and of North and South America, from 1790 to 1815, comprising an acquaintance with the most important international transactions of that period.

In either case, candidates who have passed the first public examination in classics at one of the Universities in Great Britain or Ireland will be exempted from being examined in Latin.+

Candidates who shall have elected to undergo two examinations must be prepared to satisfy the examiners, if required to do so, as to their acquaintance with the various matters which come within the single examination (except as regards Latin, geography, and arithmetic, in which such candidates are exempted from being re-examined); and they will, moreover, be required, for their second examination, to draw up a report on the ^{*} Note A .- If a candidate going up for his second examination should not, in the interval between the two examinations, have resided a reasonable time, twelve months for instance, in Germany, he shall be at liberty, if he should so desire it, to substitute for conversation in German conversation in some other foreign language besides French.

[†] Note B.-In this case the candidate, on going up for examination, must exhibit to the Civil Service Commissioners a certificate from the duly constituted authorities, Examiners, or others as the case may be, in each University, that he has passed the first public Examination in Classics, in whatever manner that examination may have been conducted, and to whatever points it may have been directed.

general commercial and political relations of the several countries in which they may have resided; and on the internal policy and administration, the social institutions, and the character of the people of such countries.

If a candidate offering himself for the single examina-tion should fail to satisfy the Commissioners to the required extent, but should evince such a knowledge of the subjects on which he may have been examined, as would have obtained for him a certificate of fitness if he had only offered himself for a first examination, the Commissioners will, in such case, give a certificate as for a first examination; and the candidate will eventually have to present himself again before the Commissioners for the second examination.

2. Period of Service of Attachés.

The service of Attachés will reckon from the date of the certificate first granted by the Civil Service Commissioners, and will be considered as probationary for four years from that date, during which period the Attachés must have leen employed for six months in the Foreign Office, and must also have actually resided at one of Her Majesty's Embassies or Missions abroad, or have been actually employed in the Foreign Office, for a further period of three years. If these conditions a to employment and residence have not been fulfilled at the expiration of four years fro n the date of the certificate of the Civil Service Commissioners, the pro ationary period will be prolonged until they have been fulfilled; and it will likewise be prolonged in the case of candidates who may have elected to undergo two examinations, until the final certificate of the Commissioners has been obtained.

A Salary of £150 a-year will be granted, contingently, to Attachés on completion of their Probation.

A salary at the rate of 1501. a-year will be granted to Attachés on the termination of the period of probation, and on the :eceipt from the Minister under whom they have last served, of a certificate showing that their general character and conduct, during the time they have so served, have been satisfactory; and that, as far as such Minister has the means of forming an opinion, they understand and speak French well, and also one other foreign language.

4. Abolition of the designation of Paid Attachés. Commissions as Second Secretaries to be granted to Paid Attachés.

The designation of First and Second Paid Attaché is abolished; and in lieu thereof will be substituted the designation of Second Secretaries, which will be conferred by Commissions under Her Majesty's Sign-Manual.

5. Commissions as Third Secretaries to be granted to Unpaid Attachés on completion of their Probation.

Commissions as Third Secretaries will also be granted under Her Majesty's Sign-Manual to persons now serving as Unpaid Attachés, or who shall hereafter be appointed Unpaid Attachés, on the fulfilment of the conditions applicable to such persons, as specified in the present Regulations.

It is clearly to be understood that the aforesaid Com-missions of Second and Third Secretaries will not imply appointment to any particular Embassy or Mission; but the holders thereof will be subject to the same conditions and liabilities as to removal from one Mission to tions and habilities as to removal from one Mission to another, at the discretion of the Secretary of State, as those to which Attaches of all classes are now liable. Secretaries of the Second and Third Classes may be indiscriminately attached, either to an Embassy or to a Mission; and the circumstance of having been attached in either of the above capacities to an Embassy will not preclude transfers in the same capacity to a Mission. Moreover, there may be more than one Secretary of either of the above classes attached, at the pleasure of the Secretary of State, to any Embassy or Mission.

6. Number of Second Secretaries.

There will be a fixed number of Second Secretaries determined by the number of First and Second Paid Attachés at the date of the issue of these Regulations.

The salaries of Second Secretaries will be fixed at the same rates as those now assigned to First and Second Pald Attachés in the respective Embassies and Missions; it being understood that such rates have reference to the character of the Embassy or Mission, and not to the services of the Second Secretaries, who may be removed, without claim to compensation, from an Embassy or Mission where the rates are higher, to an Embassy or Mission where the rates are lower.

7. Rules as to Pensions of the Fourth Class.

In virtue of Her Majesty's Commissions, the service of Second and Third Screetaries will count for their pensions, under the Act of 2 & 3 Wm. IV, cap. 116, from the date of the issue of their first Commission; but the amount of pension to be assigned to them will be calculated, so long as they are eligible for a pension of the Fourth Class only, for each year that has elapsed since the date of their first Commission, at one-thirtieth part of the date of their first commission, at one-timeted persone the last salary of which they were in receipt at the time of the pension being granted; provided that no pension shall continue to be issued to a person not incapacitated by ill-health, inedically certified, who may decline active service before he has reached the sixtieth year of his age, after which age no person shall be required to serve as Second or Third Secretary.

8. Provision for the Transfer of the Junior Members of the Diplomatic Service from one post to another; and Payment of their Expenses of Removal.

Second or Third Secretaries, and Attachés, as a general rule, will not be employed for more than two years consecutively, irrespective of the periods during which they may have been absent on leave, in the same Embassy or may nave over a useful on leave, in the same among your Mission, unless for special public reasons. Secretaries of Embassy or Legation, Second and Third Secretaries, and Attachés, will, on their first appointment, or on any subsequent removal by reason of promotion or otherwise on public grounds, receive such an allowance as shall be sufficient to cover the actual expense of their personal journey by land, or the actual amount paid for their personal personal passage by sea, either from Engiand to their post, or from one foreign post to another; and in the case of Secretaries of Embassy or Legation, and of Second Secretaries, a similar allowance for one servant, if they have one; but no allowance will be made under the head of subsistence during a journey by land; neither will any allowance be made for the expense of the journey or subsistence of the families of any such Secretaries or Attachés. In the event of a passage being afforded to Secretaries or Attachés on board of one of Her Majesty's ships of war, the allowance made will be in conformity with the Admiralty Regulations.

No allowance will be made to the Junior Members of An anowance will be insale to the sunformations of the Diplomatic Service for journeys undertaken for their own convenience, in pursuance of leave of absence; but in all such cases the expense of the journeys from and on returning to their posts will be exclusively at their own

charge.

It is understood, moreover, that in the case of any journey of which the expense is to be allowed, Secretaries or Attachés, unless specially excused from doing so, will be bound to take charge of despatches, if required; and, in that case, they will be expected to perform the journey without delaying on the road.

9. Interchange of Employment between Second and Third Secretaries, and Junior Clerks in the Foreign Office.

The Secretary of State will, should he see occasion. The Secretary of State will, should he see occasion, for the advantage of the public service, allow Second and Third Secretaries, and Attachés, to interchange for a time their duties with Clerks of the three Junior Classes in the Foreign Office; the several parties being bound, for the whole period through which the interchange extends, in every respect to perform the duties and to submit to the obligations attaching to the situation which they may temporarily occurs.

The Secretary of State will, moreover, if he sees reason to do so, direct such temporary interchange of duties to be made, irrespective of the wishes of the parties, between Second or Third Secretaries, or Attachés, and Clerks in the Foreign Office; or he will direct such persons to be employed for a time, at home or abroad, without any interchange, making in either case such an allowance to the parties as he may recorded the such sections. the parties as he may consider just and reasonable. In the event of any Attaché being so employed in the Foreign Office, the period, over and above the six months which are obligatory as stated in section 2, during which he shall be actually employed in the Foreign Office, shall reckon towards the three years during which he is by these Regulations to reside at an Embassy or Mission abroad.

In the case of temporary interchanges between Secretaries and Clerks, they will respectively rank, during the period for which the interchange shall last, after the Junior in the classes of Secretaries or Clerks to which each of them belongs, the Clerk receiving an acting appointment as Secretary of such class. The same principle will apply in cases of permanent interchange.

If a Clerk in the Foreign Office should be permanently transferred to the Diplomatic Service, or should be temporarily employed with a Special, or with an Ordinary, Embassy or Mission, he will receive a Commission or an acting appointment, as the case may be, as Secretary of the Second or Third Class, according to the length of his service in the Foreign Office: but he will, as regards others then in the same class, enter it as the Junior.

10. Deductions to be made from Salaries of Heads of Missions on Leave of Absence.

With a view to relieve Heads of Missions on leave of absence on private grounds, the deduction to be made from their salaries will in future be limited, for a period not exceeding sixty days from the date of their departure from their posts, to the sum required to provide for the allowances of the Acting Charges d'Affaires according to the present Regul tions; on the expiration of which period the deduction will be at the rate of one-half of their salaries. Such period of sixty days may either be one of sixty consecutive days, or of sixty days occurring at intervals in the course of one year beginning on the 1st of January.

11. Allowances during War or Interruption of Relations.

Should an Ambassador, Minister, or Secretary, by reason of war or other interruptions of Diplomatic relations, be withdrawn from active service before his services shall have qualified him for a Diplomatic pension of the class under which he would otherwise come, the Secretary of State will, as he may see fit, assign to any such person a temporary allowance calculated on the rate such person a temporary and wanter calculated on the land of pension assigned to the class to which he belongs, regard being had to the length and general character of his services; such allowance being, however, strictly subject to the condition in regard to employment specified in the 7th section of the Act of 2 & 3 Wm. IV. c. 116.

12. Date at which present Regulations shall take effect.

The foregoing Regulations shall take effect from the 1st day of October, 1862; but Unpaid Attachés appointed previously to the 1st of January, 1861, will be allowed until the 1st of July, 1863, to undergo their second examination, according to the Regulations now in force; and if, on such second examination, they obtain their certificates, they will retain their present precedence, but not otherwise.

All persons nominated as Attachés subsequently to the date of the present Regulations will be subject to the provisions as to examination therein contained.

The condition of employment for six months in the Foreign Office will not be enforced with regard to Unpaid Attachés in the service abroad at the date of these Regulations; but such Unpaid Attachés must have passed both examinations under the existing Regulations, must have actually resided for a period of three years at one or more of Her Majesty's Embassies or Missions abroad, must have completed four years from the time of their entering the service, and must be provided with the certificate from the Head of the Mission under whom they have last served, specified in Clause 3 of these Regulations, before they can receive a commission as Secretary of the Third Class, or the salary at the rate of £150 a-year a signed to that Class. REGULATIONS RESPECTING FOREIGN ORDERS.

The Queen has been pleased to direct that the following Regulations respecting Foreign Orders and Medals shall be substituted for those now in force. (1855.)

(In force, 1863.)

- 1. No Subject of Her Majesty shall accept a Foreign Order from the Sovereign of any foreign country, or wear the Insignia thereof, without having previously obtained Her Majesty's permission to that effect, signified by a Warrant under Her Royal Sign Manual.
- 2. Such permission shall not be granted to any Subject of Her Majesty, unless the Foreign Order shall have been conferred in consequence of active and distinguished Service before the Enemy, either at Sea or in the Field; or unless he shall have been actually and entirely employed, beyond Her Majesty's dominions, in the Service of the Foreign Sovereign by whom the Order is conferred.
- 3. The intention of a Foreign Sovereign to confer upon a British subject the Insignia of an Order, must be notified to Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, either through the British Minister accredited at the Court of such Foreign Sovereign, or through His Minister accredited at the Court of Her Majesty.
- 4. If the service for which it is proposed to confer the Order has been performed during War, the notification required by the preceding Clause must be made not later than two years after the exchange of the ratifications of a Treaty of Peace.

If the service has been performed in time of Peace, the notification must be made within two years after the date of such service.

5. After such notification shall have been received, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs shall, if the case comes within the conditions prescribed by the present Regulations, and arises from naval or military Service before the Enemy, refer it to Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the War Department, previous to taking Her Majesty's pleasure thereupon, in order to ascertain whether there be any objection to Her Majesty's permission being granted.
A similar reference shall also be made to the Com-

A similar reference shall also be made to the Commander-in-Chief; if the application relates to an Officer in the Army, or to the Lords of the Admiralty if it relates to an Officer in the Navy.

6. When Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs shall have taken the Queen's pleasure on any such application, and shall have obtained Her Majesty's permission for the person in whose favour it has been made to accept the Foreign Order and wear the Insignia thereof, he shall signify the same to Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State fir the Home Department, in order that he muy cause the Warrant required by Clause 1 to be prepared for the Royal Sign Manual.

When such Warrant shall have been signed by the Queen, a notification thereof shall be inserted in the Gazette, stating the service for which the Foreign Order has been conferred.

- 7. The Warrant signifying Her Majesty's permission, may, at the request and at the expense of the person who has obtained it, be registered in the College of Arms.
- 8. Every such Warrant as aforesaid shall contain a Clause providing that Her Majesty's licence and permission does not authorize the assumption of any style, appellation, rank, precedence, or privilege appertaining to a Knight Bachelor of Her Majesty's Realms.
- 9. When a British subject has received the Royal permission to accept a Foreign Order he will at any future time be allowed to accept the decoration of a higher class of the same Order, to which he may have become eligible by increase of rank in the Foreign service, or in the service of his own country; or any other distinctive mark of honour strictly consequent upon the acceptance of the original Order, and common to every person upon whom such Order is conferred.
- 10. The preceding Clause shall not be taken to apply to Decorations of the Guelphic Order which were bestowed on British subjects by Her Majesty's predecessors, King George IV. and King William IV, on whose heads the Crowns of Great Britain and Hanover were united.

Decorations so bestowed cannot properly be considered as rewards granted by a Foreign Sovereign for services rendered according to the purport of Clause 2 of these Regulations. DIPLOMATIC PENSIONS.

(1.) Extract from the Third Report from the Select Committee of the House of Commons, on the Income and Expenditure of the United Kingdom .- June 26, 1828.

Pensions to Foreign Ministers.

THE Committee think it right to present to the House, in this Report, some observations on the subject of Pensions to Foreign Ministers while unemployed, these having been regulated by the Act 50 Geo. 3 [1817], re-lating to superannuations, to which they have made such frequent reference in this Report.

These pensions form a charge on the third class of the Civil List, The following clause of the Civil List Act of 22 Geo. 3, cap. 82, sec. 18, [1782,] explains the manner in which these pensions were granted, till they were placed under the regulations of the 50 Geo. 3, cap. 117, [1810.]

And whereas it hath been usual that persons who have served the Crown in Foreign courts have, after the expiration of their service, at His Majesty's pleasure, received such proportion of their former appointments as to His Majesty hath seemed expedient: Be it enacted, That no-Majesty hath seemed expedient: Be it enacted, That nothing in this Act contained relative to pensions shall be construed to extend to such allowance, either at present or in future, provided the said persons do not severally enjoy some place or other profit from the Crown to the amount of the pension usually allowed in such cases:
provided that the list of the said pensions shall be laid,
in the manner before mentioned, before Parliament.

The names of those persons who receive pensions are contained in the Appendix to this Report.

By the Act of the 50 Geo. 3, it is provided: "That no pension shall be granted to any person on account of pension shall be granted to any person on account of having served the Crown in Foreign Courts within less than ten years from the date of his first appointment on such service, during which time he shall have served not less than three years; and no such allowance shall exceed 2,000l. a-year, and every such allowance shall abate if such person be appointed to any civil office or employment under the Crown of equal or greater amount, and shall also be subject to a proportionate abatement if the value of any such office or employment shall be less than the amount of such allowance.

As the Act of the 56 Geo. 3, cap. 46, sec. 4, [1816,] provides that the savings which may be made in the third class of the Civil List shall be carried to the account of class of the Civil List shall be carried to the account of the Consolidated Fund, the public have a direct interest in keeping this branch of expenditure within its proper limits. It appears, from the return in the Appendix, that the sum paid on account of Diplomatic Pensions during the year 1827 was upwards of 57,000t. This sum is considered by your Committee as exceeding the just amount which ought to be assigned to the unemployed Diplomatic servants of the Crown; and they, therefore, recommend that the annual sum allotted to such pensions should in future be limited to 40,000t, in the whole, and that, until the present amount shall be brought within and that, until the present amount shall be brought within that limit, it should not be competent to the Crown to grant more than 2,000%, in any one year, excluding from this limitation any pension which, having been once granted and afterwards suspended by the acceptance of some other appointment, may again come into course of payment.

It appears further necessary to lay down more precise regulations with respect to the periods of service which shall in future give a title to such a provision. Your Committee, therefore, recommend:

- 1. That no person whatever shall be entitled to receive a Diplomatic Pension until the expiration of fifteen years from the date of his first commission, nor
- unless he shall have actually served ten years.

 2. That no person shall be entitled to a pension of the first class (2,000. a year) unless he shall have actually served three years as Ambassador at some Foreign Court.
- 3. That pensions to Envoys and Ministers Plenipotentary at the greater Courts shall not exceed 1,500.

 a year, and shall not be granted until after five year's residence in that capacity at a Foreign Court.
- 4. That pensions to Envoys and Ministers Plenipoten. tiary at other Courts, and to Ministers, shall not exceed 1,0001. a year after a similar period of resi-
- That pensions in the remaining class shall not ex-ceed 800l. a year, under the same conditions as to time of residence.

It will be proper, further, to provide that all Diplo-matic Pensions shall be held subject to the condition of forfeiture in case of refusal to proceed to any mission of equal or higher rank, and of suspension or abatement in any case in which the party receiving the pension may be appointed to any other office of profit under the Crown

In addition to these restrictions, the Committee were desirous of checking, by some positive rules, a practice which has prevailed to a considerable extent—of giving retired pensions to Diplomatic servants having sufficient private fortunes; but finding, on mature consideration, great difficulty in laying down general regulations appli-cable to all cases, they think it better to content themcable to all cases, they think it better to content themselves with expressing their marked disapprobation of this practice. It could never, under any circumstances, be justifiable; but, if the whole fund be limited, as above recommended, to 40,0001, the Committee trust that this abuse will be prevented by a consideration of the evident injustice of burdening the fund with improper charges of this description, to the prejudice of those who have equal claims with respect to their service, and better claims in respect to their pecuniary circumstances

June 26, 1828.

(2.) Extract from the Report from Select Committee of the House of Commons on Civil Government Charges. - October, 1831.

THE next branch of Expenditure which your Committee proceeded to examine was that of the Diplomatic Service; and on this subject their inquiries were aided by the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, who attended for the purpose of giving any explanations that might be required from his Department; but before they applied themselves to the examination of the details of this Estimate, it ap-peared a matter of serious consideration to examine in what manner it might be most consistent with the Public interest to provide for the Diplomatic Servants of the Crown, Hitherto this branch of Expenditure has been borne on the Civil List; and at the Accession of His present Majesty it stood as follows: £196,950 for the effective and non-effective Diplomacy.

The Select Committee of 1831, having excluded this charge from the Civil List, the first point to be decided by your Committee was, whether the Diplomatic Expenditure should be hereafter charged on the Consolidated Fund, or should be hereatter charged on the consolidated rund, or should be voted annually in Supply. In either case, the expenses of Foreign Missions would be brought under the full knowledge and control of Parliament; but it appeared to your Committee, on deliberation, that it was not expe-dient to introduce charges of this nature into the Annual Estimates. Your Committee therefore recommend, that a Estimates. Your Committee therefore recommend, that a provision should be made for this Service, chargeable on the Consolidated Fund. This arrangement will ensure, that all savings which may be made shall at once go to the Public Account, and will enable Parliament at all times to take cognizance of, and pronounce a judgment upon, any Diplomatic Expenditure which may properly be made the subject of inquiry or animadversion. In order to afford an additional security against abuse, it is the opinion of your Committee, that a statement of these Accounts should be annually laid before the House.

These arrangements appear to your Committee to be at once calculated to protect the Public interests in the Foreign relations of the State, and to guard against improvident or lavish expenditure.

The amount which is recommended for the future effective Diplomatic Expenditure of the Country, exclusive of Pensions to retired Ministers, is £140,000, which not only effects the reduction recommended by the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs in November, 1830, but carries those reductions still further.

This Estimate also makes provision for four new Missions, which the state of Europe and of the Americas may render it expedient, in the opinion of His Majesty Government, to establish, for the protection and promotion of British Interests. The Salaries of the First Attachés, heretofore defrayed out of the Civil Contingencies, and which amount to £2,950 a year, are also included in this Estimate.

If by temporary vacancies or absences on leave, the whole sum included in this Estimate should not be taken, the surplus in each year will become a saving to the Public.
Your Committee have found, with satisfaction, from the letter of the Secretary of State of the 31st of August, 1831, that in deciding upon all future claims for Diplomatic Pensions, Lord Palmerston proposes to be strictly guided, as to the scale and limitation of such Pensions, and as to the eventual limitation of their amounts, by the recommenda-tion contained in the Third Report of the Finance Committee of 1828; an extract from which is inserted, for more convenient reference, and for more precise information:-

"It appears further necessary to lay down more precise Regulations with respect to the Periods of Service, which shall in future give a title to such a provision. Your Committee therefore recommend,-

- "1st. That no Person whatever shall be entitled to receive a Diplomatic Pension until the expiration of 15 years from the date of his First Commission, nor unless he shall actually have served 10 years.
- "2nd. That no Person shall be entitled to a Pension of the First Class (£2000 a year), unless he shall have actually served 3 years as Ambassador at some Foreign Court.

- " rd. That Pensions to Envoys and Ministers Plenipotentiary at the greater Courts, shall not exceed £1.500 a year, and shall not be granted until after 5 years' residence in that capacity at a Foreign Court.
- "4th. That Pensions to Envoys and Ministers Plenipotentiary at other Courts, and to Ministers, shall not exceed £1000 a year after a similar period of residence.
- "5th. That Pensions in the remaining Class shall not exceed £800 a year, under the same conditions as to time of residence.

"It will be proper further to provide, that all Diplomatic Pensions shall be held subject to the condition of forfeiture in case of refusal to proceed to any Mission of equal or higher rank; and of suspension or abatement in any case in which the party receiving the Pension may be appointed to any other Office of profit under the Crown.

"In addition to these restrictions, the Committee were desirous of checking, by some positive rules, a practice which has prevailed to a considerable extent, of giving Retired Pensions to Diplomatic Servants having sufficient private fortunes; but finding, on mature consideration, great difficulty in laying down general regulations appli-cable to all cases, they think it better to content themselves with expressing their marked disapprobation of this practice: it could never, under any circumstances, be justifiable; but if the whole Fund be limited, as recomtifiable; but if the whole Fund be limited, as recommended, to £40,000, the Committee trust that this abuse will be prevented by a consideration of the evident injustice of burthening the Fund with improper charges of this description, to the prejudice of those who have equal claims with respect to their service, and better claims in respect to their pecuniary circumstances."

These Retired Diplomatic Pensions will remain to be provided for hereafter out of the Consolidated Fund.

one person for the 4th class; and that such pensions shall only be so granted under the following regulations and restrictions; (that is to say,)

- 1st. That no diplomatic pension whatever shall be granted to any person until the expiration of 15 years from the date of his first commission, nor unless he shall have actually served 10 years:
- 2nd. That no person shall be qualified to receive a pension of the 1st class unless he shall have actually resided 3 years as ambassador at some foreign Court:

- 5th. That pensions in the remaining class shall not exceed 7001. per annum, under the same conditions as to time of residence.

Forfeiture or Abatement of Pension in certain

VII. Provided always, and be it further enacted, That all diplomatic pensions shall be subject to forfeiture in case of refusal of the person holding the same to proceed to any mission of equal or higher rank than that in respect of which such pension may have been granted, and of suspension or abatement in any case in which the person holding the same may be appointed to any office of profit under the Crown.

PENSIONS TO SLAVE TRADE COMMISSIONERS.

[Extracted from Parliamentary Paper, No. 94, Session I, 1859.]

Treasury Minute, November 22, 1842.

Scale of Pensions for Mixed Commission Courts for Suppression of the Slave Trade.

READ letter from the Earl of Aberdeen, dated 16th instant, referring to the treaty concluded, on the 3rd July last between Great Britain and Portugal for the suppression of the slave trade, and calling their Lordships' attention to the necessity of providing for the expenditure to be incurred for the Commissions under Article 6 of that treaty for the trial of vessels charged with being concerned in the slave trade. The Commissions to be established are four in number: two of these in possessions belonging to Her Majesty, and two within the territories of Her most faithful Majesty.

The British possessions named for these Commissions are the Cape of Good Hope and Jamaica; the Portuguese possessions are Boa Vista, one of the Cape Verd Islands, and Loanda, in the province of Angola, on the western coast of Africa. The appointments to be made in these Commissiona, on the part of Her Majesty, are as follows: a Commissioner, an arbitrator, and a registrar to reside at the Cape of Good Hope, and similar officers at Jamaica; a Commissioner and an arbitrator at Boa Vista, and similar officers at Loanda.

Lord Aberdeen submits that the salary to be given to the head Commissioner in each of those courts should be £1.200 a-year; that the salary to the arbitrator should be £800 a-year; and that the salary of the registrar should be £500 a-year. In respect to the pensions which may eventually be granted to the persons holding these situations, his Lordship submits that it will be advisable to adopt a modification of the system according to which pensions are now granted for services under Slave Trade Commissions. He proposes that a graduated scale should be adopted, under which a less sum should be given than has hitherto been granted for the shortest term required; but the sum allotted should eventually be increased in cases in which a more lengthened term of service has been completed, viz., that an officer, after 12 years' service actually completed at his post, may, on then retiring with the approval of Her Majesty's Secretary of State, be recommended for a pension not exceeding four-twelfths of his salary; and that in case of his serving longer, the pension for which he may be recommended may be increased at the rate of two-twelfths of his salary for such further six years' actual service at his post. Lord Aberdeen further proposes to follow the practice hitherto observed of giving to such functionary a free passage to his post; and that the sum allotted to each for his equipment should be equal in amount to three months' salary months salary.

Write to Mr. Addington, that my Lords approve of the scale of salaries proposed by Lord Aberdeen for the officers to be appointed by Her Majesty in the Mixed Commissions to be established under the treaty between Great Britain and Portugal at the Cape of Good Hope, Jamalca, Boa Vista, and Loanda, and also of the proposed arrangements with regard to the retired allowances to be hereafter granted to those officers.

Their Lordships also concur with Lord Aberdeen, that the same arrangements with regard to pensions should be carried out in respect to appointments hereafter to be made at the Havana, Rio de Janeiro, and Surinam.

Their Lordships would further suggest, for Lord Aberather's consideration, whether the salaries of the officers at these last-mentioned stations may not be reduced, as vacancies occur, to the scale which has been resolved upon for the officers to be appointed to the new Mixed Commissions. Lord Aberdeen will no doubt concur in opinion with their Lordships, that the large increase which is about to take place in the expense of this department of the public service renders it particularly important that the entire establishment should be regulated in future with every practical attention to economy.

With regard to Sierra Leone, their Lordships admit that the unhealthiness of the climate renders it proper that the minimum period of service entitling officers to pensions at that place should be fixed lower than at other stations; but if this period were to be reduced to six years, with an increase at the rate of two-twelfths of the salary for each further three years actual service on the spot, their Lordships are of opinion that the salaries at present allotted to the officers at that station ought to undergo a very considerable reduction.

Their Lordships see no objection to the course proposed with regard to the passages and outfit of the officers to be now appointed.

RETENTION OF MILITARY HALF-PAY BY PERSONS IN CIVIL SERVICE. Act 22 & 23 Vict., c. 55.*—August, 1859.

Extract of an Act to apply a Sum out of the Consolidated Fund and the Surplus of Ways and Means to the Service of the Year 1859, and to appropriate the Supplies granted in this Session of Parliament.

Rules to be observed in the application of the Sums appropriated to Military Half-pay.

XXVII. And as the sum of £390,000, being the proportion of the sum of £531,207 by this Act appropriated to the pay of reduced and retired officers which is applicable to the halfpay of officers of Her Majesty's forces, it is hereby enacted and declared that the rules hereafter prescribed shall be duly observed in the application of the said half-pay (that is to say,) That no person who shall, on or before the 28th day of July, 1828, have held any civil place or employment of profit under Her Majesty, or in the colonies or possessions of Her Majesty beyond the seas, or under any other Government, shall have or receive any part of the same for any time during which he shall hold any such civil place or employment of profit under Her Majesty, or in the colonies or possessions of Her Majesty beyond the seas, or under any other Government, except in cases in which the same shall not exceed three times the amount of the highest rate of half-pay attached to the rank in virtue of which he claims to receive half-pay or as hereinafter mentioned, nor in any such excepted cases unless Her Majesty's special approbation be signified as aforesaid, and the officer claiming the half-pay in pursuance of such approbation shall signify in his declaration the civil place or employment of profit which he may hold or have held as aforesaid; but if the net annual emoluments of such civil place or employment shall exceed three times the amount of half-pay as aforesaid, and shall fall short of four times that amount, then it shall be lawful for the paymaster-general, with Her Majesty's approbation, signified by the Secretary-at-War as aforesaid, to issue, on or before the 24th day of December, 1858, so much of the half-pay claimed by any such officer as shall, together with the net annual emoluments of the civil place or employment, be equal to four times the amount of such half-pay, and the officer claiming the half-pay in pursuance of such approbation shall specify in his declaration the civil place or employment of profit which he may have held as aforesaid, and the actual amount of the emoluments thereof, in such manner and form, and calculated up to such period or periods, as shall be required by the Secretary-at-War; but no person who, after the 28th day of July, 1828, has been appointed to any civil place or employment of profit (except in Her Majesty's household), under Her Majesty, or in the colonies or possessions of Her Majesty beyond the seas, or under any other Government, shall have or receive any part of the same for any time during which he shall hold any such civil place or employment of profit (except as aforesaid) under Her Majesty beyond the seas, or under any other Government, other than that of a barrack-master under the Secretary of State for War, who shall, under the restrictions before-mentioned, be entitled to receive his half-pay: Provided always, that from and after the 1st day of January, 1859, it shall be lawful for the paymaster-general to issue the half-pay or any portion thereof to any officer appointed to civil place or employment of profit under Her Majesty or any other Government, since the 28th day of July, 1828, if Her Majesty's pleasure to that effect be signified by the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, through the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, through under the restrictions before mentioned.

REGULATIONS RESPECTING THE PAY, &c., OF ARTILLERY AND ENGINEER OFFICERS DURING THEIR EMPLOYMENT IN THE CIVIL SERVICE.

Extract from Treasury Minute dated October 19, 1855. (Parliamentary Paper, No. 58, Session 1863.)

1st. I. It is the duty of every Consul of Her Majesty, residing at a foreign port where a British chapel is maintained under the Act 6 Geo. IV, cap 87, to pay strict attention to the provisions of that Act, an extract from which is hereunto prefixed; and all British subjects residing at such port, ought in like manner to make themselves acquainted

II. It will be the duty of Her Majesty's Consul, to see that the orders of the Secretary of State, in regard to the matters to which the above-mentioned Act applies, are obeyed. If they are not obeyed, the allowance granted by Her Majesty's Government will be discontinued.

III. Two general meetings of British residents are to be held in each year at the British Consulate. The Consul will summon those meetings by giving public notice thereof seven days at least before the day of meeting.

IV. The first annual meeting must be held early in the seven day the behavior Charliste whether the Meeting Consults of the year, and at that Meeting a Committee should be appointed to superinteed the temporal affairs of the Church. This Committee is to consist of three officers: namely, a treasurer and two trustees. These three officers are to be elected by a majority of the votes of persons present at such meetings.

V. The Committee will collect subscriptions, and will defray the ordinary expenses of the Church; will carry into effect the resolutions of the general meetings; will attend to any ordinary business connected with Church matters; will examine into any measure which it may be desirable for the General Meetings to adopt; and will report thereupon to the meetings. But such Committee is not empowered to make any regulations; to incur any extraordinary expenditure; nor to take any steps which these regulations do not specifically authorize, without having first obtained the sanction of a general meeting of British Residents; and no meetings, excepting the general meetings, held according to the provisions of the Act, will have the power of making rules and regulations, or of passing resolutions upon subjects connected with the temporal interests of the Church.

VI. At the second general meeting in each year, which should be held towards the close of the year, the Committee will render their accounts, and will make to the meeting a report on the affairs of the Church. VII. IX. All British subjects resorting to or residing at a Foreign Port or Place, where a British Church Establishment is maintained under the Act 6 Geo. IV, cap. 87, have a right to subscribe towards the maintainance of such Church Establishment, and the Treasurer cannot refuse to

XI. Copies of all such rules, regulations, roceedings, and minutes, are to be transmitted by the Consul, to the Secretary of State, by the first convenient opportunity, for the approbation of Her Majesty.

XII. It is the duty of the Consul to see that the provisions of the Act of Parliament are strictly complied with; and for this purpose it is expressly enacted by the 15th section of the Act, that "no rule, order, or regulations, shall be of any force or effect unless or until the same shall be sanctioned and approved by the Consul." The proceedbe sanctioned and approved by the Consul. The proceedings of the Committee, therefore, as well as the proceedings of general meetings, must be sanctioned by the Consul. But as the Consul's instructions enjoin him to promote peace, harmony, and good-will amongst Her Majesty's subjects, he will not unnecessarily oppose any measure which the residents may be desirous of adopting. If he should judge such measure to be inexpedient, or contrary to the interests of Her Majesty's service, he should abstain from sanctioning the measure, and should refer it to the Secretary of State, whose decision thereupon will be final.

XIII. The Act of Parliament gives no power to the Residents to interfere with the spiritual administration of the Church; this must be left to the Chaplain, who is accountable to the Crown for his proceedings. On the other hand, the Act gives no power to the Chaplain to interfere in the temporal administration of Church affairs; these matters must be left to the general meetings of British residents.

XIV. Only one Chaplain, is to be attached to each Church to which an allowance is granted by Her Majesty's Government under the Act 6 Geo. IV, cap. 87.

XV. All Chaplains who are appointed under the Act, hold such their offices for and during the pleasure of the Crown, and no longer; and the pleasure of the Crown is to be signified to them by the Secretary of State.

XVI. Sacramental alms and oblations are to be distributed by the Chaplain, and are not to be entered in the Treasurer's accounts.

XVII. All Church accounts are to be kept in the cur-rency of the country in which the chapel is situated; but when those accounts are submitted to Her Majesty's Government, they must be rendered in the form which annexed to these regulations, and the equivalent of the principal items inserted in the accounts must be stated in British sterling money, at the average exchange of the year.

XVIII. Her Majesty's Government is authorized, by the Act of Parliament, to grant in each year, to British Church Establishments at foreign ports, sums not exceeding the amount actually raised during the year by voluntary subscription or by rate among Her Majesty's subjects resident at such ports. Her Majesty's Government will not, however, always grant the full amount authorized by the Act, but will grant only such amount as may be deemed expedient by the Secretary of State, after he shall have examined the Church accounts. Those accounts must be rendered to Her Majesty's Government as soon as possible after the 31st of December in each year.

XIX. The Consul and the Chaplain are to recollect that the Act 6 Geo. IV, cap. 87, which authorizes Her Majesty's Government to afford pecuniary assistance to British chapels at foreign ports, does not allude to, and therefore will not render valid, any marriage between British subjects or between a British subject and a foreigner, which may be solemnized in such chapels, unless such marriage be declared or deemed valid by some other law of the United Kingdom.

XX. The preceding Regulations respecting the managenent of Church affairs are also to be applied to the management of the affairs of British burial grounds provided at foreign ports under the provisions of the Act 6 Geo. IV, c. 87. The affairs of the burial ground should, however, be kept distinct from the Church affairs. The annual expense of maintaining such burial grounds in order should be paid by fees on interments; and whenever these fees produce a surplus beyond the expenses, such surplus must be in British Government or other public sufficient security in the joint names of the Consul and of two Trustees; and no portion of such surplus can be applied to any other purposes than the repairs of the burial ground, without the previous sanction of the Secretary of State, signified through the Consul. The interests on money so invested should annually be received, and should be carried to the credit of the burial ground fund; and a report of the state of this fund, together with the burial ground accounts, must be sent off to the Secretary of State, as soon as possible after the 31st of December in each year.

XXI. These Regulations are to be recorded in the office of the Consul and shall be of full force, effect, and authority

A STATE OF THE PARTY OF HRAITH FRESH AIR PURE WATER.

First Class PRIZE MEDAL

CONDY'S PATENT FLUID

LONDON, 1862. LONDON, 1862.

Is harmless and inodorous, and is adopted by the leading Hospitals, the India Government, Her Majesty's Emigration Commissioners, and nearly all departments, with the exception of the Admiralty.

It destroys all disagreeable odours, restores to purity infected linen, and does not stain such linen when property dilated for use.

Removing all impurity by means of NASCENT OXYGEN, Nature's only purifying agent, it imparts that peculiarity which is characteristic of FRESH COUNTRY AIR to the atmosphere of rooms, such as Drawing Rooms, Ball Rooms, Dormitories, Bed Rooms, &c.,—a fact of the greatest importance to the heads of families, schools, and public institutions.

It furnishes a test for organic matter in impure water, and a means of rendering it free from such impurity.

Game, and food of all kinds, which have become tainted, are restored to perfect soundness by its employment.

Disinfects and purifies everything,—solid, liquid, or adriform. One gallon makes 900 to 800 gallons adapted for use.

It prevents the spread of contagion, and from its entirely innoxious and univitating character, is the only proper disinfectant of the living tissue, whether for external application, or for consuming and counteracting organic poisons taken into the stomach, or generated in the system.

In Bottles (green), 6d., 1s., and 2s.; or in bulk, 5s. per gallon. (Crimson), stronger and purer, 1s., 2s., and 4s.; or in bulk, 10s. per gallon. Bottles, 8d. per gallon in bulk.

From a vast number of reports of a scientific and official character, the following extract is made:-

No. 456 of 1859.

From the Director-General, Medical Department, to the Secretary to Government, Military Department.

Sir, Dated 21st February, 1859.

Adverting to your letter, No. 712, of the 26th January, 1858, and No. 6,083, of the 16th September, 1858, I beg to report that the Condy's DISINFECTING FLUID sent out by the Honourable Court of Directors for trial and report, has been distributed with the greatest advantage. I have received from the several medical officers who have made use of this PATRNT FLUID, the highest Testimonials in its favour, as the best article of its kind ever introduced. The Surgeons of the European General, Jamestjee Jeejeebhoy, and Artillery Hospitals at the Presidency, state that Condy's FLUID has been used with perfect success in destroying the offensive odour of substances, and is an excellent application to foul sores and fetted ulcers. The same favourable reports have been received from out stations, and nearly all concur in considering it superior to the Choristo of Ziec, as a decodrarizing and distincting agent. been used with perfect and favourable reports have been received from our stations, and firsted discriments and firsted discriments agent.

I beg to recommend that the Home Government be solicited to send out a further supply of Condy's Patrice Fluto, and that I may be permitted to direct the Medical Storekeeper to indent upon England yearly for a sufficient I have, &c.,

DISCOVERED AND NAMED BY

Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE. M.R.C.S.L..

Ex-Army Medical Staff.

The question asked by invalids, families, and households is -What is the best medicine to give in the above diseases, and what to have always ready? Medical testimony, the reply of thousands of sufferers and invalids, is confirmatory of the invaluable relief afforded by this remedy above all others.

CHLORODYNE is a liquid taken in drops according to age. It invariably relieves pain of whatever kind; creates a calm refreshing sleep; allays irritation of the nervous system when all other remedies fail; leaving no bad effects like opium or laudanum, and can be taken when none other can be tolerated. Its value in saving life in infancy is not easily estimated; a few drops will subdue the irritation of Teething, prevent and arrest Convulsions, cure Whooping Cough, Spasms, and Flatus at once.

Among Invalids it allays the pain of Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, &c. It soothes the weary achings of Consumption, relieves the Soreness of the Chest, Cough, and Expectoration; and cures all Chest affections, such as Asthma, Bronchitis, Palpitation, &c. It checks Diarrheea, Alvine Discharges, or Spasms, and Colics of the Intestines, &c.

The extensive demand for this remedy, known as Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, by the Medical Profession, Hospita's, Dispensaries—Civil, Military, and Naval—and Families especially guarantees that this statement of its extreme importance and value is a bond fide one, and worthy the attention of all.

EXTRACTS OF MEDICAL OPINIONS.

From W. VESALIUS PETTIGREW, M.D.—"I have no hesitation in stating that I have never met with any medicine so efficacious as an anti-spasmodic and sedative. I have used it in Consumption, Asthma, Diarrheea, and other diseases, and am most perfectly satisfied with the results."

am most perfectly satisfied with the results."

From Dr. M'MILLMAN, of New Galloway, Scotland.—"I consider it the most valuable medicine known."

G. HAYWARD, Esq., Surgeon, Stow-on-ye-Wold.—"I am now using Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne with marvellous good effects in allaying inveterate sickness in pregnancy."

Dr. M'Crigoro Rooff, late Army Staff, says:—"It is a most valuable medicine."

J. C. BARER, Esq., M.D., Bideford: "It is without doubt the most valuable and certain anodyne we have."

Dr. Gibbon, Army Medical Staff, Calcutta: "Two doses completely cured me of Diarrhea."

From G. V. Rinout, Esq., Surgeon, Egham: As an astringent in severe Diarrhea, and an anti-spasmodic in Colic, with Cramps in the abdomen, the relief is instantaneous. As a sedative in Neuralgia and Tic-Doloreux its effects were very remarkable. In Uterine Affections I have found it extremely valuable." very remarkable. In Uterine Affections I have found it extremely valuable.

Caution.—Beware of Spurious Compounds, or Imitations of "Chlorodyne." Dr. Browne placed the Recipe for making "Chlorodyne" in the hands of Mr. Davenport ONLY; consequently there can be no other Manufacturer. The genuine bears the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government Stamp of each Bottle.

A. & F. PEARS'S

GENUINE TRANSPARENT SOAP,

RECOMMENDED BY THE FACULTY.

THE most celebrated Physicians and Physiologists are unanimous in declaring that the vigour of the mind, and the The most celebrated Physicians and Physiclogists are unanimous in declaring that the vigour of the mind, and the health of the whole frame, depend upon the sanative condition of the skin. In its healthy state it carries of, by millions of porous outlets, the acrid watery particles of the blood, which would ultimately prove highly injurious if retained in the circulating system, and give rise to the most complicated diseases. The skin has also the power of absorbing from any liquid certain particles when applied to its surface: this renders it peculiarly liable to be injuriously affected by poisonous substances, such as the colouring matter and strong essential oils: hence it often happens that persons materially derange the healthy action of the skin without suspecting the soap they have been using was the cause. To obviate this, and to produce beneficial results, A. & F. PEARS assure their customers that their TRANSPARENT SOAP undergoes a sceond process in its manufacture, which entirely removes all the corrosive alkali (so injurious), its colour being acquired by age only. Its perfume has also been studied so as to make it most agreeable, and not in any way injurious. This fact, with the peculiar properties of the Soap, and the care we bestow on its manufacture, has induced many of the Homosopathic and other Physicians to recommend it in Skin Diseases. and other Physicians to recommend it in Skin Diseases.

Another excellence of this Soap is, that it may be used with either Hard or Soft Water, a quality which renders it extremely agreeable to gentlemen of the Navy and Arm, or families travelling to other countries, change of climate never in the least diminishing its properties.

PRIZE MEDAL HONEY SOAP.

The universal estimation in which CLEAVER'S Honey Soap is held, from peer to the peasant, has induced rival makers of a SO-CALLED article, to resort to any means in their power to deceive the unwary, by adopting the appearance, shape, and title, going so far as to call their IMITATION—ORIGINAL, ONLY GENUINE, and various other unwarrantable appellations—cmitting only the name F. S. Cleaver; and in order, therefore, to prevent the success of these various attempts to deprive the inventor of the advantages he is fairly entitled to, and likewise to prevent disappointment to the consumer, he has adopted a form of moulding his Soape as hereinafter described, which he thinks (from fear) his various competitors will not attempt to imitate. On one side, in two straight lines, are the words

REASONS FOR KEEPING THE TEETH CLEAN.

REASONS FOR KEEPING THE TEETH CLEAN.

At a Meeting of the American Academy, December, 1849, a Paper was read by Dr. H. I. Bowditch, on the animal and vegetable parasites infesting the teeth, with the effects of different agents in causing their removal and destruction. Microscopical examinations had been made of the matter deposited on the teeth and gums of more than forty individuals, selected from all classes of society, in every variety of bodily condition; and in nearly every case animal and vegetable parasites in great numbers had been discovered. Of the animal parasites there were three or four species, and of the vegetable, one or two. In fact, the only persons whose mouths were found to be completely free from them, cleansed, their teeth four times daily, using soap once. One or two of these individuals also passed a thread between the teeth to cleanse them more effectually. In all cases the number of parasites was greater in proportion to the neglect of cleaniness. The effect of the application of various agents was also noticed. Tobacco juice and smoke did not impair their vitality in the least. The same was also true of the chlorine toothwash, or pulverised bark, of soda, ammonia, and various other popular detergents. The application of soap, however, appeared to destroy them instantly. We may hence infer that this is the best and most powerful specific for cleansing the teeth. In all cases where it has been tried, it receives unqualified commendation. It may also be proper to add, that none but the purest white soap, free from all discolors ions, should be used—American Annual or Scientific Discovery.

F. S. CLEAVER'S

NEWLY INVENTED PURE

For protecting the Skin from the action of the atmosphere, and Scented in the most delicate and fragrant manner.

F. S. CLEAVER does not offer this Soap for its cheapness, but for its undeniable good and useful properties, and for its very fragrant, delicate, and expensive perfumes. Glycerine is an article better known to the medical and surgical profession than to the public. It is indispensable in the preparation of most articles applicable to wounds and skin eruptions, where price is not an object; the expense in many cases prohibits its use—hence the impossibility to apply it KEALLY to a CHEAP Soap. The manufacturer, in this case, pledges himself that his GLYCERINE SOAP contains from 15 to 20 per cent of the article, and he feels assured that its use will become general to those who like a first-class Soap, and compared with many of THAT character now in use, it will be found economical, being only ONE SHILLING for a large convenient Tablet, or Three in a Box for 2s. 6d.

A. & F. PEARS'S

TRANSPARENT SHAVING STICK.

The universal celebrity which this article has obtained since its invention ranks it above all other preparations for Shaving. Those soaps advertised for producing a copious and instantaneous lather are all impregnated with a strong and caustic alkali, causing irritation and frequent eruption of the skin. As many attempts have been made to obtain comfort in this destrable act of cleanliness,—and many have been the failures,—the fault has generally been attributed to the racor; but to our mind, we believe the cause of pain and uneasiness has generally resulted from the impure qualities of the soap, the caustic alkali in which affects the skin, and so distresses the cuticle, that shaving to many is a positive nuisance. To obviate these evils, A. & F. Paars have succeeded in producing the above article, which, for durability, portability, and cleanliness, cannot be surpassed.

Gentlemen who travel are desirous to be as little encumbered as possible; the shaving-dish is then a nuisance, and renders the dressing-case inconveniently large. This is dispensed with by using PEARS'S TRANSPARENT SHAVING STICK, in the following manner:—With a brush, moisten the beard with hot or cold water, then rub the end of the Stick over it, and afterwards, by means of the brush and a little more water, raising a lather, which in efficacy and facility, will far surpass all others. We recommend this as the best means of easy shaving; for how frequently is time wasted in raising a lather in the dish instead of doing it on the face, where friction with the brush is wanted.

Price of the Shaving Sticks, in pink Cases, 1s., 1s. 6d., and 2s. 6d. each. To be had of most respectable Perfumers and Chemists throughout the world, or of the Inventors.

W. ELSTOB,

BELT, BREECHES, & TROUSER MAKER,

60. NEW BOND STREET.

THE ARTISTS AND SCULPTORS OF GREAT BRITAIN AND ITALY have just expressed their verdict very emphatically (and certainly not prematurely) against the absurdities of the present style of male costume. With some, the hat—with others, the draping of the figure, to borrow one of their own terms, is an object alike of aversion and satire. But of all emanations of sartorial genius, that which gives most pain to the eye of the connoisseur, is, without doubt, the ill-fitting,—tastelessly shaped TROUSERS—that now a days are seen on the public streets. It can be demonstrated that a pair of trousers, to be made properly, requires, more than any other garment, judgment in designing and care in cutting out. Those made by ELSTOR, of 60, New Bond Street, have these distinctive features: they fit well, are ever elegant in appearance, and as regards price—an important item—they are neither so cheap as to necessitate their being carelessly put together, nor so dear, as to gain only the wealthy as purchasers, and consequently are the most desirable for men of moderate fortune to wear.

It is in the power of every man to choose his own tailor, but it demands no little discrimination and research to secure one who is, what he should be, competent to make, and with respect to price, content to take for his motto, "IN MEDIA VIA TUTISSIMUS IBIS." See "Essay on Clothing," by G. Buchanan, Esq., "International Exhibition, Class 27c."

HUNTING & RIDING BELTS.

(Copy.)

All persons are liable to Rupture and Weakness in the Back,

STOUT MEN MORE SO THAN OTHERS.

If your horse steps short—or is hard in the mouth—a sudden jerk may cause an injury, a rupture, or a rick in the Back,—men take to the TRUSS and the BANDAGE, when the evil occurs: the prudent rider prevents it, for it is not possible for nature to withstand the tremendous strain which keen sportsmen put upon them. ELSTOB'S BELTS and DRAWERS are the most comfortable preventive of Corpulency, Rupture, and Strains or Weakness in the Back, that I know of, and I speak entirely on its merits.

H. WALKER'S NEEDLES have long enjoyed great popularity with those who value really good Needles. They have recently been greatly portant character, and as all New Patents necessarily come before the notice of the scientific journals, it will be satisfactory to note the extremely favourable opinions formed of this Patent by those most competent to judge of its merits.

The following is from "The Engineer" of May 4, 1859:—"Difficult as it may appear to entirely change the structure of so small an article the figures below shew what may be done even with the eye of a Needle.

"Fig. 1. A. is a ridge or slightly raised part before the eye; B, the eye; C, a groove beyond the eye into which the thread falls.

À. B. C.

Fig. 1.

"Fig. 2, is a side view of the part A, B, C, shewing the thread recessed as in sewing, when the usual pressure of the thimble drives the Needle with its thread at once through the cloth, affording relief of no ordinary character to the tailor or seampstress, and saving much of their time. We have submitted these Needles to a good judge of such articles, who has declared them superior to all others, not only as above stated, but particularly also with relation to facility of threading."

H. Walker's Patent Penelope Crochets have had so many imita-tions, it is necessary to repeat the request that all who wish for the true Needle will see that the word "Penelope" is on the handle.

The new Patent Uncotopie Handles to the Penelope Needles have the word "Uncotopie" on each, and persons who would avoid disappointment will please to observe these trade marks. The Uncotopie Handle keeps the Needle at all times in the true position for work, and is invaluable alike to a beginner, or to an accomplished worker.

182, Richmond Road, Hackney, London, Nov. 18, 1862.

GENTLEMEN,—I have had my machine now more than three years, having purchased it of you in September, 1859.

From that time to the present it has never been out of order. I have never broken one needle, and am still using that which was fixed in the machine at the time of its purchase, so that the packet sent remains untouched. It has been in constant use, for, with a large family, it has made the greater part of my children's garments. I very much presse may own to any I have seen by other makers, it being so much more simple, less noisy, and more easy in operation; the work also wears better than any other I have seen. I have now very little mending to do, and none from the work coming out. The machine in short is invaluable.

"These 'Notes' are full of hints with regard to the management of the sick man, which only the truest sympathy of a fine and sagacious mind could have dictated."

"The most experienced will learn much from these pages, while to those who have never before studied the subject, who may have thought it too simple, if not too trivial for special attention, the light they throw on the duties of the sick-room will be little short of a revelation."—Daily News, January 18, 1860.

"In publishing these Notes, Miss Nightingale does a national service, one only second in importance to that which led her to sacrifice her health and repose in the fever-smitten hospitals of Scutari."—Express. January 18, 1860.

"Miss Nightingale speaks home to all her readers. The pamphlet is not written only for professed nurses. It is a body of wise counsel forcibly expressed that will set the minds of wives and mothers working, and will do incalculable service if it be read carefully in our households. Mistresses will do well not only to read it themselves and act upon its counsel but size to put it in the hands of any maidstresses will do well not only to read it themselves and act upon its counsel, but also to put it in the hands of any maidservants who are disposed to read, for it will help greatly to secure from servants an intelligent co-operation in the effort to secure a healthy home."

"To every class, from the highest to the lowest, these Notes are addressed."—Examiner, January 14, 1860.

"Every father of a family should change his silver for these Notes (their price is fixed so moderately he need not change his gold for them), and every member of a family should both hear and try to profit by them. It is not too much to say, that no domestic library can be complete without them; and considering the doctor's bills they probably will save him, any Paterfamilias who stupidly neglects to get these Notes will deserve to get a stress laid on his last Latin syllable."—Punch, January 28, 1860.

Arms) Genealogical and Heraldic Dictionary of the Peerage and Baronetage of the British Empire, with a Portrait of Her Majesty wearing the jewels. Complete in one volume, Royal 8vo., corrected to the present time, price 38s.

"The first authority on all questions affecting the aristocracy."—Glube. "Beyond comparison with any other books of the same class, and perfect of its kind."—Examiner. "No one can take up this huge volume without seeing that it is a book of superior merit and value, and such as not one person in a thousand could venture upon accomplishing."—Observer, P.b. 2, 1862. "Ulster King of Arms presents us annually with a Peerage and Baronetage, which may be classed among the institutions of the country."—Daily Telegraph, Jan. 18, 1862. "A Peerage like this is really a portion of the historic literature of the country, and should be studied by everybody."—Ilus Lon. News, Jan. 18, 1862. "As a Book of Reference for Lawyers it is invaluable. They can find nowhere else such reliable and complete Pedigrees, and such accurate information of the families of their most distinguished clients. There is no less troublesome or more interesting way of acquiring historical knowledge than by glancing over the pages of such a Peerage as that of Sir Bernard Burke's."—Solicitors' Journal and Reporter, Feb., 1862.

Sir Bernard Burke's (Ulster King of Arms) Genealogical and Heraldic Dictionary of the Landed Gentry of Great Britain and Ireland. Part I of the Fourth Edition, uniform with the Peerage and Baronetage, price 25s. Part II shortly.

"A work of this kind is of a national value Its utility is not merely temporary, but it will exist and be acknowledged as long as the families, whose names and genealgies are recorded in it, continue to form an integral portion of the English constitution."—Post. "The whole forms a fine and full account of the Gentry of these realms—of that class 'who,' says Sir Bernard in his preface, 'possess, though undistinguished by hereditary titles, an undeniable right, from antiquity of race, extent of property, and brilliancy of achievements, to take foremost rank among the lesser nobility of Europe."—Illus. The Foreign Office List, and Diplomatic and Consular Handbook, exhibiting the rank, standing, and various services of every person employed in the Foreign Office, the Diplomatic Corps, and the Consular Body. Cavendish and Edward Hertslet. New Edition, corrected to the present time. Bound in cloth, price 5s.

"The Foreign Office List gives the most careful notices of every person depending on, or in any way connected with, the Foreign Office, from the Minister to the youngest supernumerary clerk in his department, and from the Ambassador to the Cabinet Messenger. It moreover enliven the dull monotony of official detail with biographical notices of the functionaries whose names it records. It is to be found in all the Chancelleries abroad; no Attaché of a Mission great or small, thinks his library complete without it; and it is one of the first objects that attracts the eye of the British traveller as he waits for his passport visa in a Consul's office."—Times (from our own Correspondent).

We have no hesitation in saying that this work will be a complete guide in the hands of the Student."—The Builder. "From the very explicit, yet concise, manner in which the author has carried out the various subjects, it is evident they are founded on good theoretical data, and sound practical knowledge. His practice on field-work and engineering surveying generally, is of itself a volume of instruction to the young practitioner, and, without so entering into abstruse formulæ and mathematical calculations, so as to make the work puzzling, it contains all that is required to render it, not only a source of instruction, but also a most excellent work of reference."— * * * * * Mining Journal.

Notes on Nursing: What it is, and what it is not. By FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE. Demy 8vo., limp cloth, price 2s.

"We have never read any book on any subject on which so much is said, and said so well in a shorter space. * * * There will be a great neglect of duty if Miss Nightingale's admirable work is not so carefully studied that it becomes, in fact, the manual of every sick room."—Times. "These 'Notes' are addressed to women, and every woman in the country ought to read them."—Daily News. "The work is but an inexpensive pamphlet, not costing the price of one bottle of medicine; but it is destined, we trust, to reduce the doctor's bills in many families. * * * To every class from the highest to the lowest, these 'Notes' are addressed."—Examiner. "Every father of a family should change his silver for these 'Notes' their price is fixed so moderately he need not change his gold for them), and every member of a family should both hear and try to profit by them. It is not too much to say that no domestic library can be complete without them; and considering the doctor's bills they probably will save him, every Paterfamilias who stupidly neglects to get these 'Notes' will deserve to get a stress laid on his last Latin syllable."—Punch. "We wish it may find its way not only into every hospital and workhouse, but into every school and nursery in the Kingdom."—Saturday Review.
